Fourth Annual Concert Features 250 Voices

DR. JAMES PAUL KENNEDY conducts the 250-voice combined choirs in the fourth annual Christmas Concert Friday.

By Nancy Noon

"Jingle Bells," rather than basketballs, bounced from the rafters of the Men's Gym Friday evening as the combined choral group presented the annual Christmas Concert.

Dr. James Paul Kennedy directed the group of 250 students. Taking part were A Cappella Choir, Men's Glee Club, and Treble Clef Club.

The first half of the program consisted of traditional religious Christmas music. "Christmas Hymn," a seventeenth-century arrangement by Jungst, opened the concert, followed by "Magnificat" and "Ave Maria." These two selections, by Palestrina and Arcadelt respectively, were sung in Latin.

Annual Carols Will Begin At 7 Tomorrow

The annual all-campus Christmas Caroling, sponsored by AWS, will take place Thursday, Dec. 16, with the first groups starting at 7 p.m. and the entire student body meeting at 8:30 on the Ad Bldg. steps.

Here Pat Sanguinetti and James Dunn will lead the group in singing more carols, with the A Cappella Choir adding its version of several Christmas songs. Tradition has reserved "White Christmas" and "Silent Night" for the Choir, therefore, all house groups are asked to refrain from singing these songs during the evening.

Donna Walker, general chairman, has specified that the carolers are to be divided into two groups. The lead group in both cases will proceed to each house on their list as scheduled below and serenade them with one carol. The house will respond with their song, and then join the group in going to the next house. Each person should carry a candle.

When both groups are complete, they will come together at the Ad Bldg. steps, where they will meet the off-campus students.

Judges To Choose Winners In 'Christmas Spirit' Race

Complete rules for the annual "Christmas Spirit Contest" Monday, Dec. 13, have been released by the Campus Action Interest Group of Student Christian Fellowship.

Two cups will be awarded this year. A trophy will be presented to the winning men's Dorm and another to the winning women's Dorm.

Each house is invited to have outside displays which will be judged upon (1) Originality, 33 1/3%; (2) Christmas theme, 33 1/3%; (3) Appropriateness

The simplicity of Dawson's "Mary Had a Baby," evoked the approval of the capacity crowd which attended the concert.

Miss Barbara Matz, assistant director of Treble Clef, conducted "Glory Be to God" by Rachmaninoff. "O Lord Most Holy" by Franck was directed by Eston Kreiger, assistant director of Men's Glee Club. Jeanne Gray accompanied the number.

"God Is With Us," a Russian Christmas chant by Kastalsky, and two selections by Christiansen, "Beautiful Saviour" and "Praise to the Lord," concluded the first part.

Following intermission, Mr. Kreiger conducted the combined choir in "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen" by Vaughn Williams.

Herbert Number Well-Received

Especially well-received by the children in the audience was Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys," which was directed by Miss Matz and accompanied by Jenelle Rapaport and Betty Konzone.

The accent was on bells in two selections—"Carol of the Bells," a Ukrainian tune by Leontovich, and Pierpont-Marlowe arrangement of the perennial favorite, "Jingle Bells."

A novelty arrangement of "Twas the Night Before Christmas," a choral reading by Moore, brought screeches of laughter from the small-fry and more restrained but equally amused chuckles from the larger-fry.

Concert Completed

"We Three Kings of Orient Are," Berlin's "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," and "The Shepherd's Story" by Dickinson completed the concert.

As encores, the group contributed "I'll Be Home for Christmas" and "I Wish You a Merry Christmas." The audience and choir then joined in singing "Silent Night" under the direction of Dr. Kennedy.

The "die-hards" who remained after the concert proper were rewarded with an impromptu program while the choir members posed for the photographer. With flash bulbs popping and knees sagging they sang "Walking in the Winter Wonderland," "Santa Claus is Coming to Town," and several other numbers.

A dance was held for the choir members in the Rec Hall after the concert.

Men's Glee Club and Treble Clef travelled to Port Clinton and Lakeside Sunday to present Christmas concerts. Wednesday they gave concerts in Willard and Shelby.

for night or day, 33 1/3%.

Judges of this year's contest will be Karl Richards, art department; Mrs. James Overman; and a representative from Lasalle's Department Store.

All decorations must be up by 4 p.m. Monday, Dec. 13. Judging will start about 5 p.m. Dec. 13. Decorations should remain in place until Friday, Dec. 17.

SCF presented the rules and stipulations to Senate Monday night. The contest and rules won Senate approval.

New Year Seniors Must Make Schedule For Spring Term

Seniors should make appointments for second semester registration with their academic deans for the period Dec. 13 to 17, according to Registrar John W. Bunn.

The rest of the student body will confer with their deans following Christmas vacation. Commuters and students employed on Saturdays will make out their schedules Thursday evening, Jan. 6 from 7 to 9. All others will see their advisers Saturday, Jan. 8 or 15 from 8:30 to 11:30.

Second semester fees should be paid between Jan. 24 and Feb. 1. Anytime during this period students can finish filling out all the necessary forms for next semester. Upon the completion of final tests and all the prerequisites for enrolling, students will have until Feb. 2, when classes resume, to return to school.

First semester grades will be distributed Jan. 31.

WIS Delegates Attend Meeting

Men and women independents from the midwest area met at Ohio State University last Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 4 and 5, for the Regional Conference of the National Independent Students Association.

The purpose of the NISA conference was to evaluate and coordinate independent movements on campuses in Ohio and surrounding states.

1949 Handbook Goes To Press

The Revised Freshman Handbook went to print at the Wood County Republican last week. Proofs will be returned and the book will go to press Dec. 17. The latter part of January is the publication date.

BG Group Installs FTA In Defiance

A Future Teacher's Association chapter was formally installed Thursday evening in Defiance, O. when four University FTA members initiated a group of 25 high school students into the organization.

The club was petitioned by the Defiance students several weeks ago and its installation is the first conducted by the Bowling Green group this year.

Those making the Defiance trip were: Joseph Becker, Mickie Johnson, Eileen Croft, and Robert Brown.

Williams Hall Fire Causes No Damage

A fire in Williams Hall early yesterday morning caused no damage.

A lighted cigarette butt in the paper shoot was the cause of the fire.

Two women, residents of Williams Hall, succeeded in putting out the fire before the arrival of the Fire Department.

Sixth Annual 'Messiah' Will Be Presented Sunday; 270 Voices To Participate

The University Choral Society will give its sixth annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" in the Men's Gym Sunday evening at 8:15.

A Cappella Choir, Men's Glee Club, Treble Clef, and about 30 townspeople will participate in the production, making a total of over 270 voices.

Senate Receives 7 Complaints

Senate received a total of seven campus gripes in the Senate "Suggestion Box" last week.

Rating top honors with a total of three complaints was the Library heating system. Two complained about the lighting in the Ad Bldg. Two disapproved of the unused reserved parking space.

Rubbish that has been placed in front of the Ad Bldg. incurred the wrath of one individual.

Senate investigating committees reported:

(1) The automatic control of the Library heating system does not permit manual adjustment.

(2) A contract has been signed and work will begin soon on the lighting system of the Ad Bldg.

(3) The parking problem is being constantly considered for improvement by Senate and Dr. Benjamin Pierce.

Senate members expressed their pleasure over the success of the Senate Suggestion Box and urged students to continue to use the box.

English Schools Expand Program

British Universities, in cooperation with the Institute of International Education, New York, and the British Council, are expanding their program of summer schools for overseas students in 1949. The number of courses will be increased and provision made for a larger intake of American students.

Nine universities are arranging schools for next year. They will all be held from July 10 through Aug. 20. The courses will range over a wide field covering studies of English social life, English literature, democratic government in Britain, British industrial development, town planning modern European civilization, and ancient Greece.

Arrangements are being made to accommodate an overall figure of 780 students from the United States. All inquiries should be made by March 1, 1949 to the Institute of International Education at 2 West 45th St., New York, N. Y.

Women Debaters Place At Capitol

Bowling Green women debaters, Delores Nader, Pat Swineford, Dorothy Skirletz, and Joyce McGowan placed in a debate at Capitol University last Saturday.

The debate was sponsored by the Ohio Association of Speech Teachers. Representatives from eleven colleges took part in the tournament.

On Dec. 11, four teams will represent Bee Gee in a tournament at Otterbein. Also Bee Gee will be represented in a novice tournament at Case on the same day.

Dance Class Students May Still Register

Beginners ballroom dance class registration is still open for students to sign up. Classes are held every Thursday evening at 7 in the South Gym of the Women's Bldg.

Fee for the complete course is $2.50. According to Margaret Miller, dance class instructor and alumna of Bowling Green, registration will be open to new students on December 9 and 16.

Club Gets Special Train For Game

A special train to Cleveland for the Bowling Green University of Kentucky game Jan. 11 is being planned by the Booster Club.

Three hundred students must sign up for this train before the trip will be possible.

There will be a table in the Well where students may sign for this trip. The cost will be $7.15 and will include a round-trip train ticket, transportation to and from the Arena, and a ticket to the game.

A block of tickets is being reserved for Bowling Green students.

Civil Service Lists New Job Openings

The U.S. Civil Service Commission is accepting applications for pharmacologist positions which pay salaries ranging from $3,727 to $10,305 per year.

The majority of the positions to be filled are in the Food and Drug Administration and the National Institute of Health in Washington, D. C.

Application forms may be secured at the Post Office.

Students Will Tour Ohio To Inspect Student Unions

Pres. F. J. Prout told reporters Monday that the Board of Trustees has unanimously passed the Senate resolution proposing a new Student Union Bldg.

Senate has formed a Student Union Advisory Committee "to advise and make recommendations to Senate on the Student Unions of other universities." These students will make trips to the various Ohio universities in order to inspect new and proposed Student Unions.

Nelson Alexander and Libby Arnholt, of the Student Senate, head the committee. Three others will be chosen from the student body.

Anyone desiring to become a member of the committee should pick up forms at Ralph Geer's Office at any time. Forms must be turned in by Wednesday, Dec. 15.

Students will be chosen on the basis of answers given on their application forms. Senate will

The group will sing under the direction of Dr. James Paul Kennedy, assisted by Warren Allen.

For the first time, the university Symphony Orchestra, directed by Gerald McLaughlin, will accompany the "Messiah."

Guest Artists Announced

Guest soloists will be Miss Nancy Carr, soprano; Miss Lillian Chookasian, contralto; Harold Haugh, tenor; and Phillip MacGregor, bass.

This will mark Miss Carr's second appearance at Bowling Green, as she took part in last year's "Messiah" presentation. She is a native of Springfield, but is now living in Chicago. A graduate of the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, she made her debut in 1945.

Miss Chookasian is also a Chicago resident and has appeared as soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

Heads Music Dept.

Mr. Haugh is head of the Music Dept. of Oberlin College, Oberlin, O.

Mr. McGregor, a veteran of five years in the army air forces, makes his home in Cleveland. He attended Juilliard School of Music in New York City and has appeared on radio and television.

Alpha Chi Omega sorority will usher for the program.

A dress rehearsal will be held in the Men's Gym Saturday at 7 p.m. Anyone may attend.

The "Messiah," most famous work of George Friedrich Handel (1688-1759), was composed in three weeks. It was first produced in Dublin on April 13, 1742, under Handel's direction.

Faculty Film Shown Tonight

The French film, "Mr. Orchid" will be shown tonight in the Practical Arts Auditorium for Faculty and their student guests.

As a faculty movie bonus, the award-winning film, "Stone Flower," filmed in the German-Agfa color process, will be shown to faculty and guests Jan. 12 as the final selection for the semester.

The second-semester series will feature noted British productions and will include "The Seventh Veil," "Stairway to Heaven" (in Technicolor), "Dead of Night," and "Great Expectations."

Delta Epsilon Holds Dance

Delta Epsilon Club sponsored its first social affair, a closed dance in the Laboratory School Gym, Friday night after the Yuletide Concert.

The wall, decorated in blue and white, was accented with a large insignia of the club, spotlighted with blue lights.

Refreshments were served at 11:15; dancing continued until 12.

A Men's Independent Needed At B G . . .

Here we go again. This time it's Campus Misunderstanding No. 5,648,901.

The misconception centers around a bumper crop of Bowling Green "fraternities." Students are under the wrong impression concerning various Greek-letter groups who call themselves "fraternities," particularly after the NEWS last week made the error of calling one of these groups a fraternity.

ALL GREEKS

ARE NOT

FRATERNITIES

The group in question and several other new "fraternities" have only "club" recognition by Student Senate.

The men's social groups formed this fall (the alarming rate was one a week for awhile) must wait two years before they are admitted into Interfraternity Council.

The two-year period begins with Senate approval of the "club" constitution. Interfraternity Council changes the status from "club" to "fraternity" only after evidence of sufficient growth and stability.

Without some control, this entire fraternity system would be imperiled. This campus is unable to support an unlimited number of fraternities.

Nevertheless, all who wish to take advantage of the benefits of fraternity life should be given an opportunity to have these benefits.

Who is at fault? It isn't the Administration or Senate controls—the fault lies in the student body.

Students need to form a democratic, alert, active Men's Independent Society willing to admit the many independent men who want to participate in the activities of organized social groups.

Such a men's union would, in every way, be comparable to a "fraternity." The only difference would be in the lack of Greek letters and restricted membership.

INDEPENDENTS

ORGANIZED

Like the Women's Independent Society, independent men should have their own house and receive recognition from other social groups.

Full participation in contests, social, and political affairs would be afforded the Men's Independents.

So far, no one has taken advantage of a beautiful opportunity to form this much-needed organization. We hope, someday soon, a Men's Independent Society will form, prosper, grow powerful socially and politically — AND NOT GO GREEK!

The New Look . . .

Changes are in store for page three. At long last, the page is due for some re-designing and changes of policy.

Heretofore, a predominately male staff has standardized the set-up of the society page, breathed a sigh of relief, and made the page conform to previous policies and tradition. In this way, more time could be devoted to other departments.

After having dispensed with the social page during two four-page holiday issues, we have had time to consider new possibilities.

The result? We would favor dispensing with the usual social event picture (usually 4 to 10 days old) and using pictures of Bowling Green's brides-to-be.

Your cooperation is needed if this change is to become a reality. Any pictures of BGSU bride-elects will be promptly printed on page three.

Leap Year Proposing Is Becoming A Dead Custom

By Jim Sponseller

As the year 1948 fades away, it appears that the female species has passed up another opportunity to promote their crusade for suffrage. The custom of Leap Year proposing is dead—there's no doubt about it.

As far back as 1288 A.D., a law was enacted in Scotland in which during "Lepe year a mayden ladye hae the liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, and if he refuses to talk hir, he shall be fined except he can make it appear he is betrothed to another woman." In France and Italy similar mandates were ordered. It was a year-long Sadie Hawkins Day nightmare—or blessing—depending upon the sex.

Now, seven centuries later, this old custom and law has apparently withered away. Why?

I took a poll. It was nothing personal. "Why didn't you propose to a man this year?" I asked a number of coeds.

Huh!?" exclaimed 99.4 per cent. "It is Leap Year, you know," I replied. Since February 29th they seemed to have forgotten this fact. "It's not proper for the girl to propose," answered 34.9 per cent. "Something to do with mores I guess." (Mark one up for the sociology profs.)

With tongue in cheek I stalked others with the burning question. "Who wants to get married?" queried two Freshman lovelies.

Now it was my turn. "Huh?" "A smart girl doesn't have to propose," one sorority girl whispered confidentially. "After she leads him so far, he can't help but pop the question." At this point I felt as helpless as a three-legged turtle in a burning atomic bomb plant.

"I was afraid to," said one coed. "Afraid to propose?" I asked. "No, afraid he'd accept."

Replied another: "Oh, I like the roommates I have now." A red glow tinted the atmosphere around my facial sector.

"Why don't you ask the men why they don't propose?" returned another anonymous couple.

"I'm asking the questions here," said I. This job of polling is as tough as the recent elections proved it to be. All I ran into was comedians.

Propose! What would my husband and two children say?" retorted a feminine pedestrian as I gently slipped through the crack in the sidewalk.

Then came the payoff. Why didn't I propose? I don't know," answered another gorgeous creature with a peculiar gleam suddenly lighting her eyes. "Are YOU married?"

And with that revolting development I took hasty leave of my client and the polling profession. Dangerous is hardly the term to describe it. If the custom of Leap Year question-popping is really dead, I shall gladly mount my little Fels-Naphtha soap box and solemnly proclaim, "May it rest in peace."

Letter To The Editor

Sir:

In your "Manners and Morals" column concerning "the debutante industry" (Time, Nov. 8,) I was somewhat amazed, yet amused, to read of the "lissome" Joanne Connelley so nonchalantly dismissing the clever loquaciousness, genuine intellect, and congenial drinking habits of college "boys" in her sophisticated, world-weary attitude . . .

It appears to our entire fraternity that this "sweet and young" 18-year-old apparently hasn't met true college men, as yet! John Adam Kovchok Bowling Green State University Gamma Theta Nu House Bowling Green, Ohio

Inside Bowling Green

By John Fay

Bowling Green has had a lot of great victories in its past basketball history, but the one last Saturday night over Long Island University was the greatest of them all. The Booster Club should be boosted for its fine welcome home celebration they gave the boys. Some students waited an hour Monday morning in high winds and cold temperature until the team finally arrived.

Uncut, three hours in length, the first local showing of "The Best Years of Our Lives" at the Clu-Zel Theatre, will be next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Most college students will find the 1:25 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. shows best to attend because of the three-hour length. Plan to see it from the beginning. There is also an 8:05 p.m. showing daily.

Leonard Bernstein, the young conductor whose star has been steadily rising over Broadway and the entire music world, and who will be guest conductor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra when it appears here in the Spring, is now in Israel giving concerts for wounded Jewish soldiers in the hospitals and also to front line Jewish troops.

Men living at the Stadium Club are happy over the recent installa-

No More AAU . . .

In last week's NEWS one of our columnists revealed the fact that the American Association of Universities will break with tradition and eliminate its system of accrediting qualified universities in this country.

Since the item was published many students have been inquiring what was back of the move and does it leave Bowling Green out on the limb as far as recognition is concerned.

The answer to both inquiries can be found in a New York Times article of Sunday, Nov. 28. Acting as an official spokesman for the association, Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown University announced that the system was being abandoned because "modern methods of testing have made the system antiquated."

SYSTEM HAS BECOME ANTIQUATED

The blue-ribboned list of approved universities was started 50 years ago because European universities had no knowledge about the qualifications of the steady flow of American graduate students who went there to study. Also the Eastern schools of this country had little knowledge about the scholastic standards of the schools in the West.

Dr. Wriston stated that we have now outgrown that stage because of these modern methods of testing and he believes that from now on it will be up to the individual schools to select their own graduate students.

Currently the Association's list of accredited schools totaled 34 but many of these schools were ignoring the list in recent years, taking in students in some cases who had graduated from schools which were not approved.

Bowling Green had for several years been attempting to gain admittance to the AAU. The AAU has never declared WHY we were not accepted. Rumors and speculations have persisted ever since it was known that we desired to be approved.

The Times article pointed out that the new objective would be to act as spokesman for the country's colleges and universities on national questions.

"The subject of graduate teaching and research would fall to a new group within the organization, the Association of Graduate Schools," Dr. Wriston declared. He did not elaborate on this latter group.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity are holding their annual Christmas party for their housemother, Mrs. L. C. Keagle, Friday, Dec. 16. Novelty gifts will be exchanged among the members at that time.

The Alpha Phiis will hold their annual Christmas tea Sunday afternoon. Members of the faculty, and sorority and fraternity representatives have been invited.

Two sororities recently celebrated anniversaries. Phi Mu recognized their fourth year on campus with a buffet dinner Dec. 4. Alumnae from the Bowling Green and Toledo area were their guests.

Chi Omega sorority gave each member a small cake with one candle on it to commemorate their first anniversary, Nov. 22.

Miss Evelyn Shute, chapter visitor, will be at the Chi Omega house this week.

Lois Dunlop became an active member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity recently held an exchange dinner.

Despite the pouring rain the Alpha Xi Deltas serenaded the fraternity houses and freshman women's dorms Tuesday, Nov. 16. Phi Mu sorority held a serenade last night.

The Alpha Xis recently entertained their province president, Mrs. Robert Blackburn. The sorority gave a tea in her honor. Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Prout, deans and their wives, sorority representatives and alumnae were among the guests present.

CAIN'S MARCELLE POTATO CHIPS

By John Radabaugh

(Opinions expressed here are not representative of the student body or the Bee Glee News. Opinions are entirely those of persons contacted.)

Interest has been focused on Amherst University where a fraternity had its charter suspended for pledging a negro. From this comes the query, "What is your opinion of the action at Amherst University?"

Nils Lindquist

"I think that chapter had the courage of their convictions to give up their charter and pledge a man they hold as an equal," stated Nils Lindquist, a junior from N. Y. "This," he continued, "is a step forward in bettering race relationships. However, I believe the national fraternity was justified in protecting their convictions and revoking the Amherst charter."

Alice Vietmeier, a second semester senior whose home is Toledo, declared, "If the fraternity is a democratic group as they claim to be, then one should be as eligible as another to be long to the organization, according to their abilities and capabilities."

Harriet Woods

"I believe as the editorial in the Bee Glee News stated, 'all men are created equal,'" asserted Harriet Woods, a junior from Columbus. "Everyone," Miss Woods said, "should have equal chance to belong to an organization and should not be excluded because of race or religion."

William Metzger, a first year man from Willoughby, thought that if a person fulfilled the requirements there is no reason why a color should be any barrier. "If fraternities are brotherhoods," he said, "then each individual chapter should be allowed to make its own decision."

William Metzger

Sophomore Judy Gill from Olmstead Falls could not see why their charter was suspended. "It's against the American principles to exclude a man because of his race," she declared. "I do think," she added, "the chapter did set an excellent example for other fraternities to follow."

"It is too bad in the world today that such things exist," said Dave Long, a junior transfer student whose home is in Bogota, N. J. He declared, "If we are to have a better world and live up to the standards that democracy sets we must do away with such segregations and prejudices."

Theta Chi and Beta Sigma fraternities will hold an Open House next Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. This will give most people their first look inside Ivy Hall.

Bill Porto Likes Cooking

By Jane Carlton

"A leetle beet a dese—and a leetle beet a dat," said Bill Porto as he spiced up the roast turkey with wine and brandy.

The energetic senior from Cleveland who keeps the Sigma Chi house in stitches with his spontaneous antics, was chief cook at the Porto home on Thanksgiving Day.

"It has been a tradition in our family for the men to do the cooking on holidays," he remarked. "Mom just makes out the menu and then sits back hoping everything will turn out!"

"My job for the Christmas dinner is to make the salads. Dad will make the pies and cakes, and my brother will fix the main dish. I just throw whatever I find in a bowl, mix it up and add this and some of that—and it's delicious," he said, laughing. Guess this chef doesn't need a recipe book!

Bill is a physical education major and at present is assistant basketball coach at Weston High School.

"So far the team hasn't won a game—but we're hopin'!"

When the fraternity needs a skit or joke for a special occasion, Bill, who is chairman of the entertainment committee, get out his collection or makes one up in a jiffy. This collection has been a hobby of his for many years. Another hobby is his clever ma-

With the Falcons

By Tom Loomis

BASKETBALL GETS HEADLINES

Within the interval of a few days the campus sports spotlight has shifted from football and hopes for a post season game to the still infant basketball season. The disappointment in not receiving a grid bowl bid has been engulfed in the surge of hope concurrent with the remarkable performance of the cage squad against a good LIU team in New York last week.

The record-breaking performance of the Falcons served notice on the basketball world that Bowling Green is bouncing back after the lacing it took in the Invitational last winter.

LONG SPARKED RALLY

For a few moments Saturday it looked as if the game was to feature another case of Bee Gee "Garden jitters." When "Peanuts" Long got hot and started the team on the glory road it may have been the beginning of a march that could possibly lead to top national honors.

There is no time to rest on the newly won laurels. Western Kentucky's club has been slightly better than Bee Gee for the past few years. Now even though the Hilltoppers have lost all of their stars but Oldham, Ed Diddle can be counted upon to produce a club that is dangerous on its own floor.

BOSTON GAME ALL-IMPORTANT

Holy Cross must be rated as one of the three greatest teams in the country. Kaftan and Cousy are the kind of players coaches usually have but once in a lifetime—and the Crusaders will start them both Tuesday plus a superb supporting cast. The importance of this game rates with that of the University of Kentucky battle in January.

LIU Upset 97-64 --- Garden Mark Falls

Bee Gee Runs Wild In Blackbirds Rout

By Bob Sullivan

Bowling Green's fast breaking Falcons poured in 58 points in the second half to score a decisive victory over a slightly favored Long Island University team, 97-64, in Madison Square Garden, Saturday night. It was the Falcons' third straight win.

The 97 points scored by the Falcons tied the all-time team scoring mark for the Gotham arena. The record was set by DePaul in the 1945 National Invitational Tournament. Also broken was the regular season mark of 91 set by CCNY last year.

Stan Weber, the 6'6" forward, led the attack for Bee Gee with 24 points. Stan scored 10 baskets and had four points from the foul line.

Mac Otten and Bob "Peanuts" Long each scored 15 points to take second place scoring honors. Gard and French were high for LIU with 12 and 11 points respectively.

The Falcons played most of the second half without the services of Charlie Share, the 6'11" center. Share left on five fouls three minutes after the second half began.

The Blackbirds grabbed an early lead and with only four minutes to go the score was 24 to 16 in their favor. However, Bob Long hit the hoop for four straight baskets, then Eli Joyce added two to give BG a 39 to 30 lead at the half.

When the second half began it was all BG. "The Falcon fast break worked to perfection as the (Continued on page 6)

Crusader Battle Has Nation's Eye

By Bob Marsh

Bowling Green's high scoring Falcons, who showed New Yorkers how basketball is really played Saturday, will be out to ring up victories four and five when they meet Western Kentucky at Bowling Green, Ky., Saturday, and Holy Cross in Boston, Tuesday.

Western Kentucky, always one of the nation's top basketball teams, may again be a contender for national honors despite the loss of four men of the starting five of last year's squad.

Coach Ed Diddle has built his entire team around the only returnee, John Oldham. Oldham was one of the top scorers for the Hilltoppers with 337 points in 30 games. The departure of Sleepy Spears, Oren McKinnon, Ray, Gibson, and the rest seems a logical reason for Coach Diddle's oncoming gray hair.

Bob Lavoy, tallest man on the squad at 6'7" is the most promising prospect to take over Spears' job. He was on the traveling squad last year. Rip Gish, 6'5" forward, and Buddy Cate, who stands 6'6", have also won special recognition from coach Diddle and will see plenty of action.

The Hilltoppers have always been bad medicine for Bowling Green when they've met them on their home floor. Last year the Falcons defeated Western here, 75-64, but lost 66-52 down in Kentucky. Western Kentucky won 28 games and lost only 2 last year.

Holy Cross, winner of the NCAA tournament in 1947 and a finalist in the 1948 event, will have the same squad as last year's with the exception of Captain Bob Curran.

Co-Captain George Kaftan, 6'3" forward who has been picked on several All-American teams in the past two years, is the spark plug of the squad. He was second only to another All-American, Bob Cousy, in total points scored with 468. Cousy had 486.

Charlie Bollinger, 6'6" center and the tallest man on the team is also one of the best defensive players. He will be out to hold Charlie Share down to a minimum. Joe Mullaney, who set up many of the plays for Holy Cross, underwent an operation and will be out of action for six weeks.

Holy Cross finished the season last year with a record of 26 wins and 4 losses. They scored a total of 2004 points and ranked 10th in the nation offensively with 66.8 points per game. Bowling Green was third with 70.5 a game. Kentucky defeated the Crusaders 60-52 in the semi-finals of the NCAA tournament last year.

Bluffton, Hillsdale Easy Prey For Falcons In First Games

By A. L. McClain

Two basketball teams came from out of the woods to play Bowling Green's "teams" Wednesday in a double header and after putting up little opposition returned to those same woods where unheralded teams go.

Bluffton was swamped 73-26 in the opener and Hillsdale, a Michigan team, lost 87-46—about par for the course for the early season breathers.

Far more interesting than the scores was the performance of the two team system. The tall lads, Mac Otten, Chuck Share, Stan Weber and John Payak seem ready with Gene Dudley proving an excellent floor man.

Although three teams were used, the racehorse type of basketball which was offered last year was absent. Bowling Green seemed more interested in polishing their ball handling and working the ball in under the basket. Last year's fast break was used infrequently.

This year's edition has more depth and Ernie Raber who scored 11 points in the opener may push someone for a starting berth. He looks like a past star, Howie Martin, and goes very high under the boards.

Charlie Share and Raber tied for scoring honors with 11 points in the opener and John Payak with his two hand set shot hitting was high with 13 against Hillsdale.

boys scored 58 points in 20 minutes. The BG defense led by Gene Dudley and Bob Long limited the Blackbirds to only nine field goals in the second half.

In the first game of the double-header at the Garden, CCNY, one of Bowling Green's opponents last year, defeated Brigham Young 70 to 57.

Swim Squad Prepares For Banner Year

Bowling Green's crack swimming team will be out to capture additional honors again this year when it takes to the water against Penn College on Jan. 8.

The Ohio College Relays defending champions have been practicing since Nov. 15, and have a tough schedule of 12 dual meets and two championship meets facing them this year.

Coach Sam Cooper has announced an intersquad meet to be held Dec. 15. This will be a preview of the 1948-49 edition of the "Aqua-Falcons."

With a squad of 22 men, led by veterans Fred Kline, Capt. Tom McManus, Alex Steve, Bob Frary, Bob Ruth, Bill VanAllman, Glen Moore, Charlie Parsons, Tom Stubbs, Del Ewing, Ed Lihan, and Dave Jamison, a good year is expected.

The Bee Gee swimmers will come up against such strong opposition as Michigan State, Iowa State, Cincinnati, and Penn College.

SAE Bowlers Increase Lead

SAE retained its hold on first place in the Fraternity Bowling League Friday by taking three points from Sigma Nu. At the same time Kappa Sigma was taking four from Pi KA thereby moving into second place two points ahead of Sigma Nu.

Other contests found Pi Theta taking four from ATO, Phi Delta taking three from Delta Tau Delta and Theta Chi taking three from Sigma Chi.

Kappa Sigma took top honors for the evening with a 2,495 series on games of 789-852-854. Individual 20 games bowlers were: Lou Cross, Pi Theta, 201; and Tom McHugh, Kappa Sigma, 200.

Sigma Nu Cops Honors In Campus Grid Competition

Fraternity Team Defeats Jay-El's 6-0

By Jack Saylor

Sigma Nu annexed the all-campus intramural football championship Thursday afternoon by outlasting a stubborn Jay-El team to win, 6-0.

The teams played a scoreless first period highlighted by the fine defensive play of both clubs. Sigma Nu tallied what proved to be the winning counter early in the second quarter. After driving over the midfield stripe, Kenny Sailer looped a long aerial which the Jay-El safety man batted into the air, Bill Stier grabbed the ball in the end zone for the score. The Sigs failed to add the point.

Twice more in this period, Sigma Nu penetrated deep into Jay-El territory but were stalled by the Independent champs. The booming punt of Leo Maher repeatedly put the fraternity men back.

Early in the third quarter a penalty stopped another Sigma Nu threat, but Sailer passed them right back down to the five-yard line. Once again the Jay-El's rose to the occasion and halted this thrust and took over on downs. Maher punted out as the period ended.

Sigma Nu went on the march once more opening the final stanza, but were stopped very abruptly as Lynn McGill intercepted a Sailer pass. Here, the Jay-El's staged their best offensive threat of the day, driving deep into Sigma Nu territory before being stopped. The ball went over and remained in the possession of the Sigs as the game ended.

Two casualties occurred in the last two minutes of play. "Pop" Baum and Bob Smith, both of the Jay-El's, collided head-on while attempting to break up a play. Both were removed to the hospital where nine stitches were taken on Baum's ear while a cut over Smith's left ear.

"My smoke is CHESTERFIELD in my new picture, WHEN MY BABY SMILES AT ME.
I always smoke CHESTERFIELDS.
They're Milder...

It's MY cigarette."
